Report of the Celebration of 'Constitution Day'

To commemorate the 71st Constitution Day the Department of Political Science celebrated 'Constitution Day' on 26th November 2020.

Unlike every time, this time the students of Political Science took the initiative and organized the event under the guidance of their teachers and celebrated the occasion with great enthusiasm. The Department of Political Science came up with an activity where they held a Panel Discussion in which a fruitful discussion among the students of degree college took place. The whole idea to organize this kind of activity was basically to know more about our constitution and its present day relevance among the students. The motto of the department was also to get an insight on whether there is a need for new amendments and also to know whether prevailing amendments need some modification or not after 71 years. The students of FYBA too participated by making presentations with reference to the Constitution. Both the events were held online on Zoom platform due to the pandemic.

Both the activities started with presentations which were made by the students on the Constitution. The presentations were very diverse, varying from the making of the constitution, to the Preamble, and the various features, sources and structure of the Constitution. A few students made presentations while others were an active audience. Totally thirteen students participated in both the Panel Discussion and Presentations. The discussion was all in all very informative and it helped students to express their opinions confidently.

In times when social injustice is at its peak in different ways and backward classes are still being victimized in various ways, it is important that students are sensitized about the problem that still troubles India in various ways in spite of us entering the 3rd decade of the 21st Century.

The aim of the department was accomplished as is evident from the various presentations made by the students.

Celebration of 'Republic Day'

The Department of Political Science celebrated Republic Day on 27th January 2020. Students of TYBA made presentations to commemorate the day.

As the department conducts an event every year on this occasion, this year too an event was organized, wherein students made Power Point Presentations on several aspects – birth of 'we the people of India', Republic Day Parade, and, reasons to be proud to be an Indian. One student even screened a documentary that was available on YouTube. It was very apt for the occasion and very nostalgic as it stirred up feelings of patriotism in everyone.

The aim was to inculcate patriotism, instill values of Peace, Harmony, Tolerance etc. as we find them in the Preamble of the Constitution. Very often such values only remain in textbooks and are studied only from the academic point of view. Through these presentations students express their sentiments and opinions on varying topics that are of national importance and it helps them become better citizens. Nine students made presentations on the occasion.

Celebration of 'Ambedkar Jayanti'

The Department of Political Science celebrated Ambedkar Jayanti on 14th April 2021. Dr Babasaheb Ambedkar is known as the Architect of the Indian constitution. He is also known as a great social reformer who strived for the upliftment of the downtrodden. Dr Ambedkar also championed the rights of women.

Five students of TYBA made presentations to commemorate Dr Ambedkar Jayanti day.

As the department conducts an event every year on this occasion, this year too an event was organized, wherein students made Power Point Presentations on several aspects –Life of Ambedkar, Work of Ambedkar, Ambedkar as a Political Thinker, and Dr. Ambedkar and Women. It was indeed very interesting as students researched very well into the life and works of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar.

The aim was to help students understand the role of Dr. Ambedkar in our country, who has moulded the Constitution, given the socio-economic difficulties that the country was facing then. The purpose was fulfilled as students touched upon important aspects of the life and works of Dr. Ambedkar.

In the online mode it has become very easy to disseminate information through various media. Power Point Presentations have indeed become very common today as students resort to it for making their opinions very lucid and clear.
